

Chatt Hills Barn Quilt Trail Status Report – February 15, 2021

QUILT TRAIL UPDATE

Barn Quilts Completed

Since the January 2021 report, two additional barn quilts have been created and added to the quilt trail, bringing the total number of barn quilts to 12.

The Bear Creek Nature Center Barn Quilt was installed at 6300 Cochran Mill Rd on January 29, 2021. The 6x6 ft barn quilt was painted by Janice Garner and installed at the Lodge by Sam Smith. A 16x16in barn quilt was painted by Laurie Searle and installed on the mailbox at the road so visitors could see a barn quilt when the Center is closed.

The Nature Center's barn quilt was well received on social media with 4,541 people reached and 515 engagements. Additionally, the mailbox barn quilt was a big hit and other residents have expressed an interesting in displaying one.

The Burdett Family Barn Quilt was installed at 5365 Cochran Mill Rd on January 31, 2021. The 6.5x6.5 ft barn quilt was painted by Laurie Searle and installed by Sam Smith.

This barn quilt is in an ideal location, with a beautiful and well-kept red barn in the center of a pasture, close to street viewing with little traffic on Cochran Mill Rd. Additionally, the pattern has been one of our most popular so far, and has generated a few inquires from other potential hosts. The Burdett Family Barn Quilt was well received on social medial with 5,363 people reached and 722 engagements.

The White Horse Farm "Mailbox" Barn Quilt, was requested by resident Julie White because her buildings are not visible from the road and she really wanted to participate. She offered to pay for the 16 x16 in barn quilt if someone would make pattern that resembled her family's heirloom quilt. Realizing there might be other residents who would like to participate but would not be eligible, we created a special Side Trail to our Chatt Hills Barn Quilt Trail to list these owner-provided smaller barn quilts.

Barn Quilts in Progress

There are three additional barn quilts in progress planned for the following properties:

1. Mt Vernon Farm, home of George & Bettina Brown at 8095 Vernon Grove Rd, will host two barn quilts. A 6x6 barn quilt with a race horse pattern will be featured on their large barn, and a smaller Martha Washington Star quilt pattern will be featured on their smaller barn down the road.
2. Carl Bouckaert is interested in hosting a barn quilt on his barn at the corner of Cedar Grove and Cochran Mill Rd. Several designs have been created and he is in the process of selecting one.

Other Updates

The Serenbe Art Farm reports that they are unable to host the barn quilt sculpture as they had hoped, due to the estimated cost to build the structure. They do not have another location on the art farm that can be viewed from the road at present, but they will keep us in mind in case something changes.
